

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The owner and manager of the website and the domain “geobanda.com” (hereinafter the website) is the cultural association Hic et nunc, which undertakes to protect all personal data transmitted through the website in accordance with applicable legislation. We treat all provided personal data strictly confidential and only for the purpose for which they were provided to us. These general conditions apply to the entire website and all its individual parts.

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

The content of the website is provided and maintained with the greatest possible care. Regardless, the Hic et nunc association does not guarantee the correctness, up-to-dateness or completeness of all information on the website and its sub-pages. The company is therefore not responsible for the occasional failure of the site, possible incorrectness of information, and also not for possible damage caused by the use of incorrect, out-of-date or incomplete information. The association and any legal or natural person who participated in the creation of the content of the website are not responsible for any damage arising from the access, use or impossibility of using the information on these websites or for any errors and deficiencies in their content.
